January concert thoughts: Despite the cold weather our concert was a resounding success. The Dvorak was an absolute triumph and the cold certainly didn't impact on the strings' finger agility! Jean Hudson's sensitive interpretation of Bruch's Romance for Viola was a fitting farewell as she moves to pastures new – thank you Jean for your support over the years.

In May we welcome back Yu Zhou Zhang to play Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 23. I look forward to seeing you all there.

Michael Taylor, Chair

Interesting facts from our leader David:

Since its formation Waveney Sinfonia has performed 140 concerts, 97 of these at Trinity. 346 works have been performed, some more than once, so 534 in total. 18 pieces have been by composers who were still living. Female composers have not yet featured but watch this space!

Congratulations to Jen Cochrane on the birth of baby Justin. Jen has regularly played clarinet with Waveney but is having a well-deserved break at the moment. We send Jen and Justin our best wishes and look forward to seeing Jen again soon and maybe Justin in few years!
